the first time in the history of the world, the people of the United States have been called upon to make a choice between two opposite ways of life, between two different philosophies, one of which emphasizes freedom and the other of which is based upon the denial of freedom.

The people of the United States have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own lives. They have a right to choose their own way of life. They have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own money. They have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own property. They have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own time. They have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own bodies. They have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own minds. They have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own families. They have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own communities. They have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own countries. They have a right to decide for themselves what they will do with their own world.

But the people of the United States have also a duty to perform. They have a duty to protect their freedom. They have a duty to defend their way of life. They have a duty to preserve their property. They have a duty to maintain their families. They have a duty to support their communities. They have a duty to help their countries. They have a duty to serve their world.
