

A long, narrow, dimly lit hallway with concrete walls and floor. The hallway leads to a bright light at the end, creating a strong contrast. The walls are dark and textured, and the floor is a light, mottled grey. The perspective is from the start of the hallway, looking down its length. There are some small openings or windows on the sides, but they are mostly dark. The overall atmosphere is somber and industrial.

C-4 2nd floor