

A photograph of a rooftop construction site. The foreground is a flat, light-colored tiled surface. To the left, there is a low concrete wall. In the center, a taller concrete structure is under construction, with a wooden ladder leaning against it. To the right, there is a large, rectangular concrete structure with a white pipe running along its side. The background shows a cloudy sky and distant buildings.

Bl-1/Roof Top